'Where Will We Live?' Policy Summit June 22 Seeks More Housing Opportunities for People with Disabilities

ST. PAUL – Arc Greater Twin Cities invites people with intellectual and developmental disabilities, their family members and other concerned community members to a free housing policy summit addressing one of today's biggest challenges for people with disabilities. Where Will We Live? will be on Monday, June 22, from noon – 5:00 p.m. at Amherst H. Wilder Foundation, 451 Lexington Parkway N., St. Paul.

The featured speaker will be Bobby Silverstein, Director, Center for the Study and Advancement of Disability Policy. Arc is hosting this urgent summit with policymakers to examine the issues and explore ideas for changing policies to increase supportive housing opportunities.

There is no cost to attend the summit thanks to sponsorship by the Minnesota Governor's Council on Developmental Disabilities. Participants are urged to register in advance by calling Arc at (952) 920-0855. For more information, visit Arc's web site at www.arcgreatertwincities.org.

Arc Greater Twin Cities is a nonprofit agency serving the many needs of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families. Established in 1946, Arc has been changing attitudes, changing policies and changing lives for more than 60 years. Arc helps individuals and families address issues that span the lifetime, including early intervention, education, transition to adulthood, health care, housing, employment, guardianship and more.
